Wage Board Speeds Approval of Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The national wage stabilization board today ordered automatic approval, for price relief purposes, of all wage increases "lawfully made" before the new wage-price policy was announced.

In a blanket authorization ,designed to clear the board's docket for an expected rush of new wage approval applications, the agency directed its 12 regional boards to clear out most of 669 cases on file prior to February 14.

The employers involved now may by-pass the stabilization board and appeal directly to OPA for price increases.

Meanwhile, an 18-cent-an-hour pay boost recommendation for shipyard and farm equipment workers started the new flow of major cases before the stabilization board.

The shipbuilding stabilization conference, reviewing wages for that industry since early December, recommended the increase for approximately 450,000 workers. Management dissented, but CIO-Marine and Shipbuilding Workers and AFL - Metal Trades department members approved the amount.

Almost simultaneously a federal fact-finding board recommended the same 18-cent hike for 30,000 CIO-Farm Equipment Workers on strike at 10 International Harvester company plants since January 21.

The stabilization board also was preparing to hand down a decision on an earlier fact-finding board's decision in the meat packing wage dispute.

With these and other cases rolling up to and through its doors, the stabilization board—originally created only to finish out the comparatively minor functions left when the war labor board was liquidated January 1—suddenly takes on a new and vital reconversion role.

The wage-price policy announced by President Truman last Thursday night requires it to approve future pay increases of all but a few classes.

Philadelphia Long Distance Phone Operators End Strike

(By The Associated Press)

A strike of long distance telephone operators in Philadelphia was settled today, removing the threat of an immediate nation-wide sympathy telephone tieup, but the possibility of a country-wide walkout for higher wages still was in the cards.

At Memphis, Tenn., where representatives of the National Federation of Telephone Workers are in conference, John A. Moran, president of the Federation of Long Line Operators, had announced earlier he would call a nation-wide sympathy work stoppage of long distance operators if the Philadelphia strike was not settled within 24 hours.

However, Joseph A. Beirne, federation president, said a majority of the 50 independent unions in his group favored a strike of its claimed 250,000 members in support of wage demands. This issue remained independent of the Philadelphia strike.

In Memphis also, Edwin R. Hackett, president of the Commercial Telephone Workers union of Chicago, voiced opposition to a nationwide strike.

Meanwhile, a federal conciliator met in closed session with leaders of striking transit workers and officials of the Conestoga Transportation company of Lancaster, Pa., in an effort to settle a two-week stoppage which developed into a general strike call.

The country's most crippling strike —a four week long walkout of 750,000 CIO Steelworkers—was drawing to a close. More than half of the strikers had been ordered back to their jobs as companies accepted the agreement with the CIO-USW to increase wages 18½ cents an hour. However, the return to work was expected to be gradual with normal operations not expected until next month.

In the 91-day-old strike of 175,000 CIO workers at General Motors plants, there was nothing to indicate a settlement of the wage and security issues was imminent. Federal Mediator James F. Dewey again planned to meet with corporation officials and leaders of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Won't Affect Northwest

SPOKANE, Feb. 19 (AP)—Any nationwide strike of the National Federation of Telephone Workers is not likely to affect the Pacific Northwest, except through some disruption of long distance service, a local union official said today.

Villa Monument To Rapacity

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

ESSEN, Germany, Feb. 19 (AP)—ust outside this bomb devastated ty that was the home of the Krupp rmament works—for generations e world's greatest producer of inruments of war—there is an extraordinary monument to rapacity and thlessness.

This is the baronial palace of the rupps, known as the Villa Hugel. is the last word in wanton lavishss and its estimated cost runs into illions of dollars.

What it may have cost in millions money, however, doesn't interest is column so much as what it cost millions of lives. For this house Krupp was created from the profh of war piled up through the genrations, and in this sense it was uilt on the bodies of men who died battle that Krupps might prosper.

History pins the responsibility for uch of German aggression during e past century on Krupp's and it ll be history which will tell us ow many conflicts this firm fed mong Germany's neighbors.

It was Alfred Krupp, founder of e firm, who provided the sinews war for Germany's onslaught gainst France in 1870. It was rupp's which carried Kaiser Wilm on its back to near victory over e allies in the first World war. And was Krupp's that was one of the ain contributors—perhaps the main se—to Hitler's all but successful atmpt to conquer Europe.

The purpose of this article is to aw attention to an aspect of Gerin aggression which we don't see mphasized fully enough—that militrism has been supported by and couraged by the titan armament rm of Krupp, which has been the otor of the war machine.

Because of this it is grand to see e seven miles of Krupp works lyg in ruins from bombing, and Villa ugel on the hill is a potent remind- to the allies never to let the rupps fabricate another gun.

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—Although Harold L. Ickes had been retained in the Truman cabinet with Henry A. Wallace because of their supposed appeal to political liberals and C.I.O. labor groups, the venerable Bull Mooser from Chicago had come under heavy fire from western progressives.

The radical bloc is also grumbling quietly at the commerce secretary's supposed partiality to business interests, as reflected in his appointments of important aides and their unpublicized plans for assistance to industry. They think he is leaning over backward to appease the conservatives who combined to defeat his renomination try at the Chicago convention in 1944.

The public power bloc inside and outside congress accused the secretary of the interior of blocking action on measures creating Missouri and Columbia Valley Authorities similar to the development in the Tennessee basin because the pending proposals do not place the proposed projects under his jurisdiction.

The CWA would have the same independent status as TVA under the bills introduced by Senator Hugh Mitchell and Representative Henry M. Johnson, two progressives from the state of Washington. Their measure would also remove supervision over Bonneville and Grand Coulee from Ickes, putting them in charge of a new, separate and autonomous agency.

MONOPOLY Another complaint against the "Old Curmudgeon" was his behind-the-scenes attempt to promote Ralph K. Davis, vice president of the Standard Oil company of California, to the post of under secretary of the interior. Congressional objectors concede that the petroleum official might make an able public servant, but they do not like the idea of giving him a position in which he would have a voice in matters involving oil.

They point out that, should Edwin Pauley of California be confirmed as under secretary of the navy, and should his California colleague hold a similar position in interior, the industry's two representatives

OPA Extension Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—The administration's drive to give OPA an unchallenged lease on life bumped into potential trouble today—a republican plan to write a definite formula for junking ceilings.

As a spokesman for the agency told the house banking committee that all controls except rents probably can be eliminated next year, Representative Wolcott (Mich.) ranking committee republican, said he favors a system that would provide for gradual but forced OPA liquidation.

This could be accomplished, Wolcott told reporters, by an amendment requiring removal of price ceilings in each industry when it is found that production has reached 75 per cent of normal output.

He would base the industry-by-industry decontrol on finding by OPA's own advisory committees, with any disputes to be settled by the emergency court of appeals.

Wolcott said he might offer this and two other amendments to the bill before the committee to extend the price control law one year beyond its June 30 expiration date. The others, he said, would:

1. Redefine OPA's scope of powers "to confine controls to prices and rents and prevent use of the powers to control the economy."

2. Set up a pricing formula under which reconverted industries need not wait for an OPA price but could apply a specific percentage increase above their prewar price. This figure would be subject to OPA review after production was underway.

Housing Units Are Assigned to Wallace, Kellogg

Twenty-four emergency housing units have been assigned to Wallace by the federal public housing administration, Senator Gossett (Dem., Idaho) told the Associated Press in Washington, D. C., this morning. At the same time he said that 50 units have been assigned to Kellogg.

K. J. Morrow, chairman of the Wallace housing committee, also was informed this morning by Senator Gossett that the units had been "located," but explained that perhaps a month will elapse before they are actually moved here. Contracts must be signed with the FPHA, of the housing agency must approve the site chosen by the committee for the location of these units.

They will be erected on the ground the city leases from the railroads north of the river, in the west part of Wallace.

Morrow also explained that a housing corporation must be formed to handle financial and other details concerned with the project. Between $5000 and $10,000 will be needed, he said, to supply these units with utilities. While no formal arrangement has been made to raise this fund, he said, the committee has an "understanding" with local firms.

All details of the project will be handled by the housing corporation.

The units, which have two or three bedrooms, will be available only to veterans. They will be moved here from other sites where a need for them no longer exists and must be torn down at the end of two years or at the end of the housing shortage.

Official Opposes Freight Rate Decision

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—An interstate commerce commission proposal to increase class freight rates in the northern states by 10 per cent with a corresponding decrease in the south and west is labeled by a New York state assistant attorney general as "an attempt to alter economic and industrial conditions."

Parker McCollester, the state official ,opening arguments yesterday against the proposal, told a special three-judge federal court that the proposal resulted from a campaign by a committee of southern governors to promote the economic welfare of the south.

He added it was not the ICC function to order rate changes "to give effect to some economic theory."

REPRESENTATIVE RESIGNS

BOISE, Feb. 19 (AP)—Governor Arnold Williams today accepted the resignation of A. Ira Cox, Soda Springs democrat, as state representative from Caribou county and appointed H. P. Sorensen, democrat, Soda Springs dry farmer, as his successor.

Foundry Workers Will Not Strike

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 19 (AP)—settlement of a dispute which had threatened a strike of northwest foundry workers was approved by a mass meeting of Portland workers last night.

H. W. Sprague, secretary of the AFL Molders and Foundry Workers local, said the settlement provided wage boosts of 10 cents an hour for common labor, 14 cents for journeymen, 16 cents for intermediate classes, and 18 cents for skilled journeymen.

The union originally asked a 30 per cent increase.

Solons Discuss Silver Battle

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Western senators today discussed plans for an attack upon the silver sale clause written into the treasury appropriation bill by the house.

The clause permits sale of the government's silver stock to industrial users at 71.11 cents an ounce. Senators from the producing states contend the price should be no lower than the monetary value of the metal, $1.29.

"We thought we would get together and talk over the situation," Senator Chavez (Dem., N. Mex.) told a reporter.

The senate already has a separate bill to reduce the silver price. It was the subject of hearings in the banking and currency committee before the Christmas recess and there were suggestions of a compromise. Chairman Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) has been ill and there have been no meetings on the bill this year.

"The appropriations committee is averse to legislation in an appropriation bill and I see no reason why an exception should be made in this case," said Senator Murdock (Dem., Utah).

Arms Of Girl Found In Manhole

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP)—The arms from the body of a young girl believed to be Suzanne Degnan, 6, kidnaped, killed and dismembered on January 7, were found today in a manhole three blocks from the Degnan home.

All other parts of the little girl's body were recovered soon after the kidnaping in four sewer catch basins within two blocks of the residence of her parents.

The kidnaper of Suzanne, who left a $20,000 ransom note, has eluded a search that included all the top officials of the city's law enforcement agencies, plus the scientific aid of the FBI laboratories in Washington.

Hundred of clues have been examined. Scores of persons have been questioned, some held for days, but one by one they were released.

Pauley Denies Officials Share In Oil Holdings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley said today that neither Postmaster General Hannegan nor any other government official shares in his extensive oil and other financial holdings.

President Truman's nominee for undersecretary of the navy told the senate naval committee, under questioning by Senator Tobey (Rep., N. H.), that he once discussed a possible investment by Hannegan in a California oil venture, but it never materialized.

Tobey's questioning along this line caused Chairman Walsh (Dem., Mass.) to halt Pauley's answers until Tobey explained, under Walsh's prompting ,that he expected to show that officials financially interested in Pauley's enterprises were backing his nomination.

Pauley supporters, however, saw new hope for their cause in the senate's confirmation of another Truman nominee—George E. Allen to be an RFC director.

Tobey said the former democratic national committee treasurer would have to wait a while before presenting what Pauley described as a lengthy "affirmative statement" discussing his controversy with Harold L. Ickes.

The naval committee cut off abruptly an attempt by Tobey to read a telegram from an airlines president which Chairman Walsh said pertained to democratic campaign fund solicitations.

The committee informally sustained Walsh's refusal to hear the telegram from W. A. Patterson, United Airlines president, to Tobey after Tobey had taken the unusual step of being sworn as a witness. Walsh said the group ought to hear direct from Patterson, who has been called as a witness.

Spies Concern Of Two Groups

The senate atomic energy group heard from Dr. Ralph McDonald of the National Education Association that a network of foreign spies seeking American atomic bomb secrets is "inevitable." The best safeguard, he said, is more and better research.

Representative Rankin (Dem., Miss.) urged the house committee on unAmerican activities to investigate the ring which worked in Canada. The committee, of which Rankin is a member, discussed the matter but decided to do nothing at present.

Other committees looked further into the business activities of two presidential appointees, Edwin W. Pauley and Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr., and invited Henry Ford II to present his side of his argument with OPA. The house banking committee took this action after Chester Bowles criticized what he called an "outrageous" Ford demand for higher prices.

A senate banking subcommittee heard further testimony about the bankruptcy reorganization of a St. Louis shoe company formerly headed by Vardaman, nominated to the federal reserve board. Senator McFarland (Dem., Ariz.) protested "smearing" Vardaman by "dragging in law suits that were never tried."

The Pearl Harbor committee, driving to end its hearings tomorrow night, heard a defense of Major General Walter C. Short, army commander in Hawaii. Short's chief of staff, Colonel Walter C. Phillips, testified army men in Hawaii had believed Washington "would not be so foolish as to withhold vital intelligence from us."

Car Leaves Highway Lands On Tracks

The sheriff's office reported today that a car driven by Ed Hill, Mullan, skidded off highway 10 and overturned on the railroad tracks west of the Golconda yesterday afternoon. No one was injured.

Ed Herman, Osburn, driver of a truck belonging to E. G. Smith, said his truck "scraped" a Mullan-Wallace bus driven by Roy Smith at a bridge west of the Golconda yesterday morning. Cars driven by A. J. Muttart, Mullan, and Velma McCorkle, Burke, were involved in a collision at Gem yesterday morning.

Revenue Sources Puzzle Solons

BOISE, Feb. 19 (AP)—Faced with requests already made public for $4,000,000, some of Idaho's legislators who will convene February 25 are wondering what Governor Arnold Williams has in mind in the way of possible revenue sources.

The governor says his message to the extraordinary session he called will not include specific recommendations for appropriations.

One Boise republican, Senator Fred M. Taylor, party caucus chairman, said he hoped Williams' message will be "specific on what he wants," and that the executive would be "forthright enough to state what should be done by the legislature, particularly with reference to the revenue measures he proposed in the call."

A change that illness and other reasons for absence might upset the slim numerical advantage of republicans in both houses was seen by Taylor.

"There may not be a republican majority in the legislature; we'll have to wait and see when the legislature meets," he said.

In the senate the republicans outnumber the democrats 23 to 21 while the GOP majority in the house is 30 over 29.

A Nampa republican, Senator Edson T. Deal, assistant party floor leader, said it was "unfortunate that the call was not made a month ago so that the farmers wouldn't be kept away from their fields." Of the work facing the session, he commented:

"The requests of the teachers for a retirement system and of the old age pensioners for an increase must be acted upon as must the request of the state tax commission which is out of funds. The needs of the Nampa school and colony and the mental hospitals need to be very seriously ocnsidered, too."

22 Americans Under Suspicion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark disclosed today that justice department investigators in Europe are on the trail of 22 Americans suspected of war-time treason.

Clark told a reporter he plans to send a special emissary to speed the collection of evidence against these suspects and six others already indicted for treason.

Clark said the justice department "is determined to bring every single American who played the axis game swiftly to trial. No effort will be spared because we must show the world that we are not sloppy sentimentalists where the crime of high treason is concerned."

"As soon as evidence has been obtained," he added, "each of the suspects will be returned to the District of Columbia to face a United States tribunal."

Eight Americans, including the poet Ezra Pound ,a native of Hailey, Idaho, were indicted in 1943 in connection with alleged propaganda broadcasts.

DIPLOMAS FOR VETS

MOSCOW, Feb. 19. New Cardinals Give Blessings

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 19 (AP)—Congratulations poured in from all parts of the world today to the 32 new cardinals, including four Americans, who were made princes of the Roman Catholic church at a precedent-setting consistory yesterday.

The four American cardinals extended blessings to the members of their archdioceses as the entire group —the most cosmopolitan ever granted the church's second highest honor—received formal calls from other members of the college of cardinals and diplomats accredited to the Holy See.

With the late arrival of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian primate, 30 of the 32 new princes of the church were present in Vatican City for the traditional ceremonies marking their elevation.

Johannes Cardinal De Jong of Utrecht, Holland, and Jules-Geraud Cardinal Saliege of Toulouse, France, were unable because of illness to journey to the Vatican to receive personal notification of their elevation.

Failure of Russian authorities in Budapest to grant Cardinal Mindszenty speedy clearance for his trip prevented him also from being present at yesterday's consistory.

Canadian Cabinet Probes 'Leaks'

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Canadian cabinet in its regular meeting today was reported to have taken up broader phases of the government's investigation into the leakage of secret information which is said to have concerned atomic energy.

No authoritative information came from the cabinet council, however, and the investigation primarily was in the hands of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Meanwhile, best available information indicated there was no connection between the investigation and the government probe into the Eldorado Gold Mines, Ltd., Canada's source of uranium.

For one thing, those arrested for making unauthorized deliveries from the Eldorado mine have been released on $5000 bail, while suspects in the espionage case are being held incommunicado.

Battery Case Saves Man From Wound

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 19 (AP)—The battery case for a hearing aid device was credited today by Keith B. Baxter, 39, with saving him from a gunshot wound when he was attacked last night by a masked intruder armed with two pistols.

Baxter this morning found the bullet from the intruder's gun lodged in the case, which he carried on the right hip. He was treated for a bruise and dismissed from a hospital.

FRUITS OF AMIABILITY

During Mr. Truman's ten months as president, the American people have come to know him rather well. He has revealed himself to them as a straight-forward, amiable, unaffected man, eager for national harmony, loyal to his friends, and desirous of pleasing as many of the people as possible.

All these things are probably commendable in a public servant. But when that public servant occupies the White House in troubled times like the present, those very virtues may give rise to complications and confusion.

Take, for example, the desire to please. That was undoubtedly a strong motive behind the administration's lifting of wartime controls of food, materials and production, and wages almost as soon as the shooting stopped. And it was a popular move with the people.

But now we find ourselves sitting in the midst of plenty while Europe faces starvation. So, for humanitarian as well as practical reasons, we must return to a sort of informal food rationing which might become formal unless there is wholehearted public cooperation.

Britain's new government, on the other hand, saw that controls would be necessary until the world had passed through the current period of chaos. It announced the continuation of "austerity living" almost as soon as it took office. Mr. Attlee surely knew that it would not be a popular move, and it wasn't. But he made it.

In the matter of industrial controls, Mr. Truman must have pleased labor when he encouraged their requests for wage increases. He must have pleased industry to some extent by removing the government dam from the free flow of materials.

But now we find ourselves being nudged toward inflation by general wage rises which are forcing a rise in prices. We find ourselves short of various goods because price control has not taken into account all the factors that go to make up prices, with the result that many manufacturers are holding back those goods rather than sell them at a loss.

As for Mr. Truman's loyalty, we find it illustrated in his continued support of Edwin W. Pauley, whom he nominated to be undersecretary of the navy. Secretary Ickes has testified that Mr. Pauley attempted to bribe him. Mr. Pauley has denied this. Mr. Truman is being says his nominee is "an honest man and an excellent administrator."

Be that as it may, it is clear to almost everyone except Mr. Truman that Mr. Pauley's background as a big oil man does not fit him for the navy job, and would condemn him to constant suspicion.

Mr. Truman has acted everywhere with the best intentions. No one can accuse him of being devious or malicious. But it does seem that he is making a wishful attempt to launch an era of good will when the time isn't ripe, and when the public servant in the White House needs to be not only wise, but more than a little hard-boiled.

would enjoy a tight monopoly over questions vitally important to national defense and to our handling of numerous diplomatic difficulties concerning foreign concessions.

In this connection they note that Ickes, as fuel administrator during the war, showed a distinct friendliness to the big producers of petroleum. They attribute his attitude to the Davis relationship.

Incidentally, the cabinet member's pro-Davis stand may hurt Pauley's chance of winning confirmation of his appointment. The latter's friends have tried to ease his path to approval by suggesting that control of the naval oil reserves be transferred from navy to interior. But the men now criticizing Ickes see no advantage in shifting this authority from one oil magnate to another.

FURIOUS President Truman favors establishment of the Missouri and Columbia power projects, but for some strange reason the secretary of the interior has been able to dissuade him from giving public presidential approval to the Mitchell-Johnson bill.

The chief executive indicated his support of the plan for harnessing power in the northwest when the two first broached the matter in definite form, and promised to send a message to congress on the subject. Samuel I. Rosenman, former legal adviser at the White House, drafted the communication, and placed it on the president's desk.

Ickes was furious when he learned of the move, and demanded permission to read the document. Next he sent for Senator Mitchell and informed him in stubborn style that he would denounce any scheme which withdrew Bonneville and Grand Coulee from his jurisdiction.

So far no Truman endorsement has appeared on Capitol Hill.

KILLER His erstwhile progressive cronies think it ironic that private utility spokesmen are now circulating Ickesian denunciations of both the Missouri and Columbia propositions. But they are most concerned over the cabinet member's recalcitrancy because the delay works to the advantage of the enemies of the proposed developments.

It is doubtful whether congress can pass on such important matters at the present session, which Capitol Hill leaders would like to close early because of the approach of primaries and elections in the fall. It is generally expected that the G.O.P. will make gains in the congressional contests, and that the next congress will be even more conservative than the present body.

In that event the Murray and Mitchell-Johnson measures may be defeated, and the Teddy-Franklin Roosevelt progressive will have been the killer.

OFFENSE Ickes' advertised liberalism always congeals when any proposal to put it into operation threatens encroachment on his power. He has clashed and broken with most of his Bull Moose associates because of his lust for authority.

For years he schemed to bring TVA within his grasp. He had almost persuaded the late President Roosevelt to authorize the transfer when the late George W. Norris, father of the Tennessee operation, stormed into the White House. He voiced such bitter objections that F.D.R. refused his approval, adding with a smile to the senator:

When Gifford Pinchot blocked the secretary's attempt to shift the forest service from agriculture to interior, Ickes wrote a magazine article designed to prove that Pinchot, the late Louis D. Brandeis and Harry Slattery were wrong when they exposed land scandals during the Taft administration.

Later he crossed Slattery off his list of friends, although he had been his under secretary and a fellow-progressive for many years. Slattery's offense was that, as head of the rural electrification administration, he opposed any plan to put that agency under the "Old Curmudgeon."—Copyright McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Flashes Of Life

MINEOLA, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Motorists suspected of intoxication will be put through an audition to the standard sobriety test by Nassau county police beginning tomorrow.

The suspect—besides walking a chalkline—will have to recite:

The suspect—besides walking a chalkline—will have to recite:

"Around the rough- and rugged rocks the ragged rascal ran."

And if he can't recite—he's tight.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP) Daniel E. Sullivan, Emporium, Pa., farmer, told an army recruiting officer, "It's up to us older fellows to get the younger men home so they can get married and raise families." But the army turned a deaf ear. At 63, he was too old.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 19 (AP)—A few months ago one of Dr. Benjamin Weisbren's patients fainted just as he was to extract a tooth. The dentist waved a bottle of smelling salts under the patient's nose and then removed the aching tooth.

The patient came back for another extraction and suggested to Dr. Weisbren: "Use the same stuff you did before. It was wonderful."

The dentist waved the smelling salts and proceeded with the extraction.

C. M. (Mike) Murphy, 81, former Spokane contractor, died last Friday in Oakland, Calif. He was a brother of William Murphy, Wallace. He built the Spokane city hall, Lewis and Clark high school and part of Gonzaga university.

Tall Story

After a visit to southern California, Mrs. Lillian Budd returned to Geneva, Ill., with a story of geraniums that "pears to be growin' right up to the sky." Her friends scoffed. So the 13-foot geranium pictured above, in a Los Angeles garden, was dug up and sent to Geneva to refute folks who say "there ain't no such animal."

Ration Book 4 Should Be Kept

Housewives were advised today by Harvey Guertin, district director of the office of price administration ,to retain in their possession war ration book 4, now used only to obtain sugar.

Although the currently valid sugar stamp 39 is the last stamp in war ration book 4 that is specifically labeled for purchases of sugar, spare stamps in that book will be designated as sugar stamps from time to time. For this reason, war ration book 4 should be retained even after sugar stamp 39 has been used, Guertin emphasized.

Sugar stamp 40 was used for the 1944 home canning programs, Guertin explained.

Auto Dealers Oppose Ceilings On Cars

BOISE, Feb. 19 (AP)—Continuation of automotive price controls beyond June 30 is opposed by the Idaho Automobile Dealers association as is an O P A requirement that a certificate of transfer be issued on all new and used car sales.

In resolutions adopted at a meeting yesterday, the association asked abolition of the ruling and of ceilings after the end of June.

The regulation requiring the certificate has not been enforced properly, said Ray Currie of Lewiston, new president of the association.

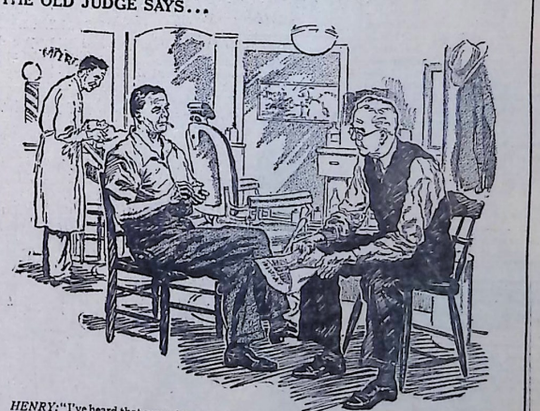
THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...



HENRY: "I've heard that same thing several times lately . . . that alcoholics are really sick people. It was news to me. Do you agree with that statement, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Yes, it's true, Henry. It's no notion of mine . . . it's a statement made by scientists who have studied the subject."

HENRY: "What did they find out, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, as a result of their medical research, they found out that approximately 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage known as alcoholics."

HENRY: "But why are they called sick people?"

OLD JUDGE: "Because it has been discovered that, in many cases, excessive drinking is a symptom of some physical or emotional maladjustment . . . not the cause of it."

HENRY: "Now I understand it, Judge. I am glad to hear of the modern approach to this problem and that so much is really being done to help these folks."

Ike Praises MacArthur's Work

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 19 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower and his personal party took off this morning en route to McChord field, Tacoma, to continue their inspection of the nation's military establishments.

In a press conference last night he explained that occupation of Japan could not be compared with that of central Europe.

Eisenhower praised General Douglas MacArthur and Lieutenant General Lucius Clay, respective chiefs of the occupation forces in Japan and Europe. A newspaper reporter suggested that conditions were smoother in the far eastern country than in Germany.

Conditions are entirely different, Eisenhower remarked.

In Japan the occupation army took over a government that was not disrupted while in Germany there was only chaos and a government had to be built from the ashes, the chief of staff emphasized.

After expressing the hope that "secretary enlistments will become sufficient to do the job" in the occupied countries, Eisenhower added:

"We have taken on such onerous duties in Japan and Germany that we must have strength. I'd rather have occupation forces made up entirely of volunteers. This means higher morale which leads to greater prestige in the eyes of people in the occupied countries. And it actually takes fewer men, under such conditions to do the job."

To "build up friendly and fast relations between the Russian people" and the U. S., "patience and good humor" are required, Eisenhower said. He was enthusiastic over the appointment of Lieutenant General Walter Bedell Smith, once his chief of staff, as ambassador to Moscow.

Wallace Says Truman 'Is Going To Run'

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace today said he expected that Mr. Truman "is going to run" for president in 1948 and indicated he would not again be a vice-presidential candidate because it would be "necessary to have some one from another part of the country."

Asked at a press conference whether he might be a candidate if Mr. Truman was not, Wallace replied:

"But Truman is going to run."

Navy Loses Two Gridiron Stars

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 19. (AP)—Two standouts of the 1945 navy football team were on their way out of the naval academy today, bringing to six the number of "big name" backfield men who bolstered the sailors' gridiron hopes during the war years and won't be playing here next season.

A spokesman of the superintendent's office announced that Bob (Hunchy) Hoernschemeyer and George Sundheim, former University of Indiana start, had " bilged out" due to academic deficiencies.

Less than a month ago, halfback Bob Kelly—erstwhile Notre Dame luminary—resigned after one year as a midshipman, saying he intended to enter Cornell where Ed McKeever, former Notre Dame coach, is in charge of football.

Last fall three halfbacks, Ralph Ellsworth of University of Texas, Fred Earley from Notre Dame and George Walmsley of Rice Institute, departed from navy.

In announcing the flunking of Hoernschemeyer and Sundheim, who played quarterback and fullback for a great part of last season, the academy spokesman said they had been given an opportunity to apply for re-examination, but had not accepted.

Their future plans were not disclosed, but both would have a year of eligibility remaining if they chose to return to Indiana.

Ted Lyons, At 45, Ready To Pitch

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—The idol of Chicago's south side, Ted Lyons, 45 and fit, is back from the wars and hard at work to become "more than just a Sunday pitcher" for the White Sox this season.

The affable Lyons, discharged from the marines as a captain after three years of service, was so eager to pick up the 20-year twirling thread he left behind in 1942 that he came out to the White Sox' training base 10 days ahead of his batterymates, due here tomorrow.

The flu postponed his workouts, but he was on the Brookside park practice field early yesterday, almost as frisky—well, almost—as in 1923, when as a gangling kid just out of Baylor university, he first joined the club.

"I want to pitch 200 innings this year," said Lyons, between laps around the field. "My legs feel fine—and that's the main thing."

18 Transports Due In Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Five American ports await the arrival today of more than 10,168 service men aboard 18 transports.

Arriving at New York are the General Anderson, 4651 troops, 120 navy, 50 civilians; William Few, 558; Elgin Victory, 991; USS Ariel, 207.

Expected at San Francisco are the Thomas Jefferson, 637 navy, 89 marines, four army; Mount McKinley, 460 navy, 70 army; Rescue, 433 navy; George Moutwell, four army.

DRIVER FINED

Hank Greenberg Weds In Georgia

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Feb. 19 (AP)—The marriage of Captain Henry (Hank) Greenberg and Caral Gimbel of Greenwich, Conn., almost went unnoticed by this southern port city.

The man who performed the ceremony, Edwin C. Dart, was unaware that Greenberg was the famed outfielder of the Detroit Tigers until he received a telephone call from a newspaper.

Greenberg gave his age as 35 and Mrs. Greenberg listed hers as 30, Dart said.

Gonzaga Will Not Have Football Team

SPOKANE, Feb. 19 (AP)—Gonzaga university put an end to long public speculation today with the announcement that it would not field a varsity football team for intercollegiate competition in 1946.

The sport was dropped during the war. The announcement did not rule out resumption of football in 1947.

ATOM SECRET OURS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes declared flatly today that as far as he knows the know-how of atom bomb production remains exclusively in the hands of the United States.

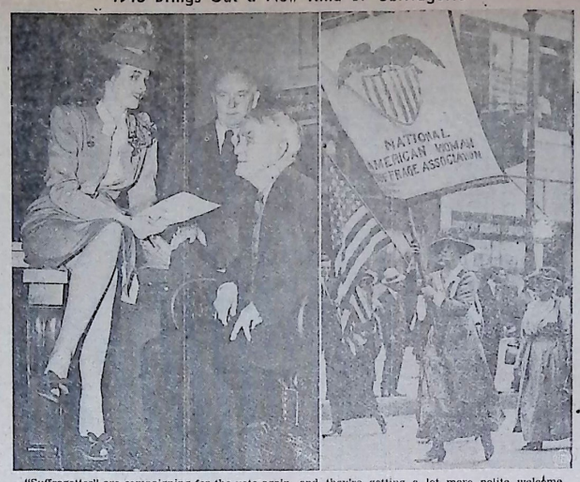
1946 Brings Out a New Kind of 'Suffragette'



"Suffragettes" are campaigning for the vote again, and they're getting a lot more polite welcome than did those who put over the "votes-for-women" amendment to the Constitution in 1919. A modern "suffragette" is Venus Ramey of Washington, D. C., a former "Miss America." She's pictured, left, above, discussing the District of Columbia suffrage bill with Sen. Arthur Capper, right, of Kansas and Rep. Hatton W. Sumners of Texas. Photo at right shows some of her pio- suffrage parade.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Governor Mon C. Wallgren said yesterday the Reynolds Metal company has requested permission to make a new offer for the aluminum rolling mill at Spokane.

An earlier offer was rejected tentatively by the reconstruction finance corporation, in favor of one from the Kaiser company. Final approval of the Kaiser offer to lease the two government-constructed plants has been delayed until tomorrow.

Colorado Has New Oil Field

MARIANNE PACHNER

RANGELY, Col. (NEA)—Oil-fever has hit this back-in- the-hills cow-country of northwestern Colorado and the thermometer has gone sky-high.

Millions of dollars are being sunk in oil-well construction and 3000 tons of equipment a month are being trucked in over mountain roads.

This newest oil-strike is in the bonanza Rangely basin. The borders of the field are still undefined and no dry wells have been struck. Oilmen feel it may be the largest producing field in the country.

Twenty-four wells are now in operation and 40 more are underway. If transportation difficulties ease up, there should be 800 wells within two years. Wells cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 each.

The 10-inch pipeline of the Utah Refining company, planned as a war measure a year ago and recently completed at a cost of $1,250,000, is responsible for the sudden and rapid development of the field. A second pipeline has recently been authorized.

Topographically Rangely basin presents the perfect picture of what a rich oilfield should look like, but it was a rancher, not a geologist, who first discovered its hidden wealth.

In 1902, J. W. Rector, a rancher in the vicinity, found oil on the surface of a river that ran through his property. Shallow well drilling went on spasmodically over a period of years and in 1931 the California company put down a deep test-well to 6300 feet.

Results were satisfactory, but tank-truck shipments could amount at best to only 1500 barrels a day, a figure that did not warrant working the field to the full. Large scale construction began when plans for the pipeline were made definite.

Oilmen are excited about Rangely because they still don't know how large the field is. The present producing area takes in about 20 square miles, which means that all wells brought in within that area will be active.

Even if the field does not expand, the production from a potential 800 wells, producing 250 barrels a day each, will bring in a yearly income of over $75,000,000.

Whitefish belong to the salmon family.
